Next Year's Date

June 21-23, 2019

From the Event Manager

Welcome to the ultimate gathering of like-minded GM owners, the Carlisle Chevrolet Nationals. This year's show is jam-packed with celebrities, activities, celebrations, reunions and some great parts and products on the Midway and in the Swap Meet.

Building T features all of this year's unique featured display cars. Be sure to check out the NickleBack Camaro; it is one of this year's Great 8 Contenders for the Ridler Award. The attention to detail is amazing and you have to see it even if you aren't a Camaro fan. From details like the diamond cut bolts to the unique striping, you have to look over every inch of the car. Another must-see is the Aerosedan by George Pavell. This killer build has some really custom touches and impressive level of detail and has been winning awards since its debut in 2017 on the show car circuit.

This year we celebrate 60 years of the Impala's induction to the market! We have different generations from 1958 through current models on display including stock to custom and everything in between. The LS Engine Celebration features more late model builds. You'll want to look under the hoods of these cars for some unexpected surprises! Also in Building T are the 50th Anniversary of the 2nd Generation Chevelle and 100 Years of Chevy Trucks displays.

We are pleased to welcome back the Solid Lifter Showroom in and around Building Y. It has a great mix of cars from GM's history and includes some top level restorations and race cars too. The Pavilion is home to the annual Novas at Carlisle gathering. Both displays have some awesome seminars and special guests.

Stacey David from the Velocity Channel TV Show "Gearz" and "Trucks" is joining us this year. Read about him on page 9.

In addition to great things to look at, the Chevrolet Nationals is also a great place to shop! The swap meet is always filled with deals. Each year we always hear about some great finds for amazing prices.

We hope you enjoy the event, share your fun on Facebook and, most of all, make some friends along the way.

STACEY DAVID OF VELOCITY TV'S GEARZ

We are very pleased to welcome these special guests to the event. Be sure to check the schedule and take advantage of the opportunity to meet them and get autographs.

Stacey David

Stacey David is THE person that every car guy wants in the garage to help out on their projects. With decades of experience working in restoration and hot rod shops, and over 20 years on national television on two hit TV shows, Stacey has been showing people how to build cool cars and trucks for a long time. His mechanical abilities and fabrication skills have made him one of the most trusted and respected custom car builders in the world today. His incredible work and positive influence have earned him many awards and accolades from the automotive industry over the years, and he continues to work hand-in-hand with the OEMs and aftermarket to keep new vehicles and parts in front of automotive enthusiasts. Also well-known for building wild, trend-setting custom vehicles like Copperhead, The V8 Interceptor and Sgt. Rock, Stacey has inspired legions of gearheads all across the nation to “get out there and build something.”

Meet Stacey David Friday or Saturday in Building T or during the Q&A session on Friday. See schedule for details.

Bruce Larson

Bruce Larson, NHRA champion and all-around car guy, has brought his two USA-1 funny cars and will be doing a series of start-ups that we affectionately call Nitrofest. Several audience members could be chosen to sit in a funny car as it's fired up (just be present at his tent at the times listed in the schedule). This is a rare opportunity to sit in the cockpit of an actual NHRA drag car while the driver and his team start and rev it for you!

Matt Avery

Matt Avery is an award-winning media producer who covers the full breadth of automotive topics. He is the writer of the “Classic Recollections” automotive column in the Daily Herald and “In the Garage” collector car feature in Quintessential Barrington. Matt wrote for the television show MotorWeek before serving as Sr. Video Producer for Cars.com.

Matt's passion started as a repair technician for Mercedes-Benz and BMW. His new book, COPO, came out in the fall and will be available for purchase and signings. His library of images, captured specifically for the book, has a permanent home in the archives at the General Motors Heritage Center.

David Snyder

Visit artist David Snyder in Building T to see a display of his automotive artwork featuring products produced by General Motors. If the timing is right, you might get to see him in action.

60 YEARS OF THE IMPALA (Building T)

The Chevrolet Impala debuted in 1958 as one of Chevrolet's most expensive models and quickly became one of the best-selling passenger cars in the United States. In 1959 it was redesigned using bodysells more like the Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs of the time. In 1961 the Impala began its third generation on the GM B Platform which would last until 1964. In 1965, in its fourth generation, the Impala took the market by storm setting an all-time industry sales record of more than 1 million units in the U.S. By 1971 styling changed in the automotive market and, naturally, the Impala did as well by introducing its fifth-generation model. This lasted until 1976. In 1977, 1994, 2000, 2006 and 2014 the automotive market changed again, leading to sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth generation versions of the car which all scored well enough with consumers to continue this car's stake in the market.

100 YEARS OF CHEVY TRUCKS (Building T)

Hitting the truck market in 1918, Chevrolet introduced the Four-Ninety after using them internally for a couple of years. Priced at $595, the truck provided the market with an economic light-delivery truck that many small businesses started using after World War I. Chevy trucks would continue to take the market by storm all the way up to present day with models like the '55 Task Force, the famous El Camino, the Corvair Pickups, the C-10, Chevy LUV, the S-10, the Avalanche and today's Silverado.

20 YEARS OF THE LS ENGINE (Building T)

Time flies when you're having fun and for enthusiasts who love the LS engine, it's been 20 years since it debuted. This is one of the most popular engine platforms in the history of Chevrolet, having come on the market in 1997. This small-block was first included under the hood of the Corvette, but not long after, found its way under the hoods of the Firebird and Camaro too. Known for their extremely strong engine block, the LS engine would also be put in the likes of the 2004 Pontiac GTO, the Cadillac CTS-V, the SSR, the Escalade, Silverado, Hummer H2 and many more models as the years went on. The LS is still used today with modern variants like the LT4 in the Corvette and Camaro. It's also become a favorite of those building hot rods and resto-mods as Chevrolet Performance offers crate motors that can be shipped direct to your home!

SEE THIS 1967 CHEVROLET CAMARO IN BUILDING T

By Sabrina Smith, Carlisle Events

If you don't know Ed Denkenberger personally, you certainly would recognize his amazing builds. Ed Denkenberger is the owner of Superior Auto Works located in Frederica, Delaware. Day in and day out, Ed works on building dream cars for his clients.

"I tell people I build special cars for special people," and that does not go unrecognized in the automotive realm.

Ed's passion for cars started in high school when he received his first car, a 1965 GMC Pickup. His dad taught him the mechanics; however, learning to do body work and paintwork came from fixing up vans with "the boys."

"That's the car that started it all" Ed said. "My wife and I went to high school in it and we still have it to this day!"

The dream of opening his own shop started with that truck. His parents didn't feel it would be a "good career move," but Ed did it anyway. He enrolled himself into Trade

School for Fabrication and Welding and as the saying goes, "the rest is history."

Today Ed Denkenberger owns his very own (successful) shop, Superior Auto Works. Within the past six years he has had two of his builds named Great 8 Finalists at Detroit Autorama.

The most recent was a 1967 Camaro SS Resto Mod named "NickleBack" which has won a standing ovation from automotive enthusiasts everywhere.

This masterpiece took six and a half years to build between the collaboration of Ed and the owners, Greg & Chris Allen.

The car was named after three significant things, the chrome/nickle appearance the car has, Ed's love for the band "Nickelback," and lastly, the hope that when the owner eventually sells the car (if he ever does), he will get a nickle back!

"Watching the car grow into a piece of art is one of my favorite parts," Ed said. "Once the build is completed, we usually cry."

Ed's builds take anywhere from 2-6 years to complete. He pours his heart and soul into every car he restores. Even with all that time dedicated on making other people's dreams come true, Ed has plans to fix up that 1965 GMC Pickup that started his passion in the automotive world.

His builds may change; however, one thing that stays consistent is Ed's coming to Carlisle. He has been attending Carlisle Chevrolet Nationals since 1997 and additional Carlisle shows dating back 38 years!

"Carlisle is my home away from home. They have always been good to me and very personal. They make me feel like I am a special part of the event, even when thousands of people are attending."

Come see the NickleBack Camaro in Building T this weekend along with Ed Denkenberger!

AUSLEY'S CHEVELLE PARTS' CATALOG AND DISPLAY CASE OF PARTS SAMPLES

By Sabrina Smith, Carlisle Events

Imagine having a 16,000 sq. ft building full of car parts. Now imagine having it full of ONLY 1964-72 Chevelle and El Camino Parts. That is exactly how Ausley's Chevelle Parts operates.

Roger Ausley, owner and CEO of Ausley's Chevelle Parts is not a newcomer when it comes to cars, especially Chevilles. In elementary school there were signs that Roger would be a "car guy," such as drawing cars rather than listening to his teachers. 1971 is when that interest peaked when he purchased his first Chevrolet car. Then shortly after that in 1980, Roger took the leap of faith and opened his full-time business in the basement of his house.

He now successfully manages the world's largest 1964-72 Chevelle ONLY parts store located in Graham, North Carolina.

Even after 38 years of business, Ausley's is still family owned and operated, and not affiliated with other parts companies. From going to Chevrolet dealerships to "cherry-pick" old car parts to now searching the world for the best prices and products for their customers, the business stands out among others. Not only are their product selection and prices astonishing, but their customer service is as well.

"Some of my employees have been here for 10+ years, focusing on one type of car," Roger said. "That is what makes Ausley's such a knowledgeable business to deal with."

Longtime Carlisle customers know that as well. Ausley's has been attending Carlisle Chevrolet Nationals, Spring Carlisle and Fall Carlisle for as long as they have been in business. Ausley's brings a little bit of everything to Carlisle all the way from their North Carolina home!

"We try to make it an extension of our store and warehouse," Roger explained.

You can find anything from weather stripping, interior parts, chrome molding, trimming and accessories in their booth. If you want to be sure that what you need is there, Ausley's offers pickup at the Carlisle shows they attend. All you must do is call and order in advance!

So why does Ausley's Chevelle Parts make the long trek out to Carlisle PA? Roger said, "We get to meet a lot of our long-time customers that we may never get to see elsewhere and offer our service to new customers." And certainly, after all these years of attending, Roger added, "It is still the one and only Carlisle; it's always been good."

Make it a point to stop over at Ausley's Chevelle Parts at A 56-64 this weekend!

ROCKAUTO

RockAuto ships thousands of auto parts from over 300 manufacturers to customers on every continent except Antarctica — including APO/ FPO addresses. The RockAuto catalog is updated daily with mechanical parts such as brake pads and shock absorbers, body parts such as bumpers and mirrors, interior trim such as door handles and carpets, and major assemblies like steering gears, CV axles, engine long blocks, and complete transmissions. There are no mechanics on staff (RockAuto is a store, not a repair shop) but service manuals are available to help customers learn how to perform a repair. The RockAuto catalog is expanding constantly. Someday, it may be possible to build an entire car using parts from RockAuto!

REVITALIZATION PROJECT

The site of the former International Automotive Components plant, located along Spring Road a few blocks from the Carlisle Fairgrounds, closed in 2008. Carlisle Events purchased the property and has undergone several years of clearing the land, planning, cutting through red tape and is now in the beginning stages of construction. The first phase of the project is the infrastructure – roads, storm water runoff, sewage, power and water lines, etc. By the end of this event season we expect to see some buildings take shape to include a hotel, shops and a luxury car condominium community (Concours at Carlisle concoursat-carlisle.com). We are very excited at the progress and will include updates in this year's event guides.
